SportsPodium

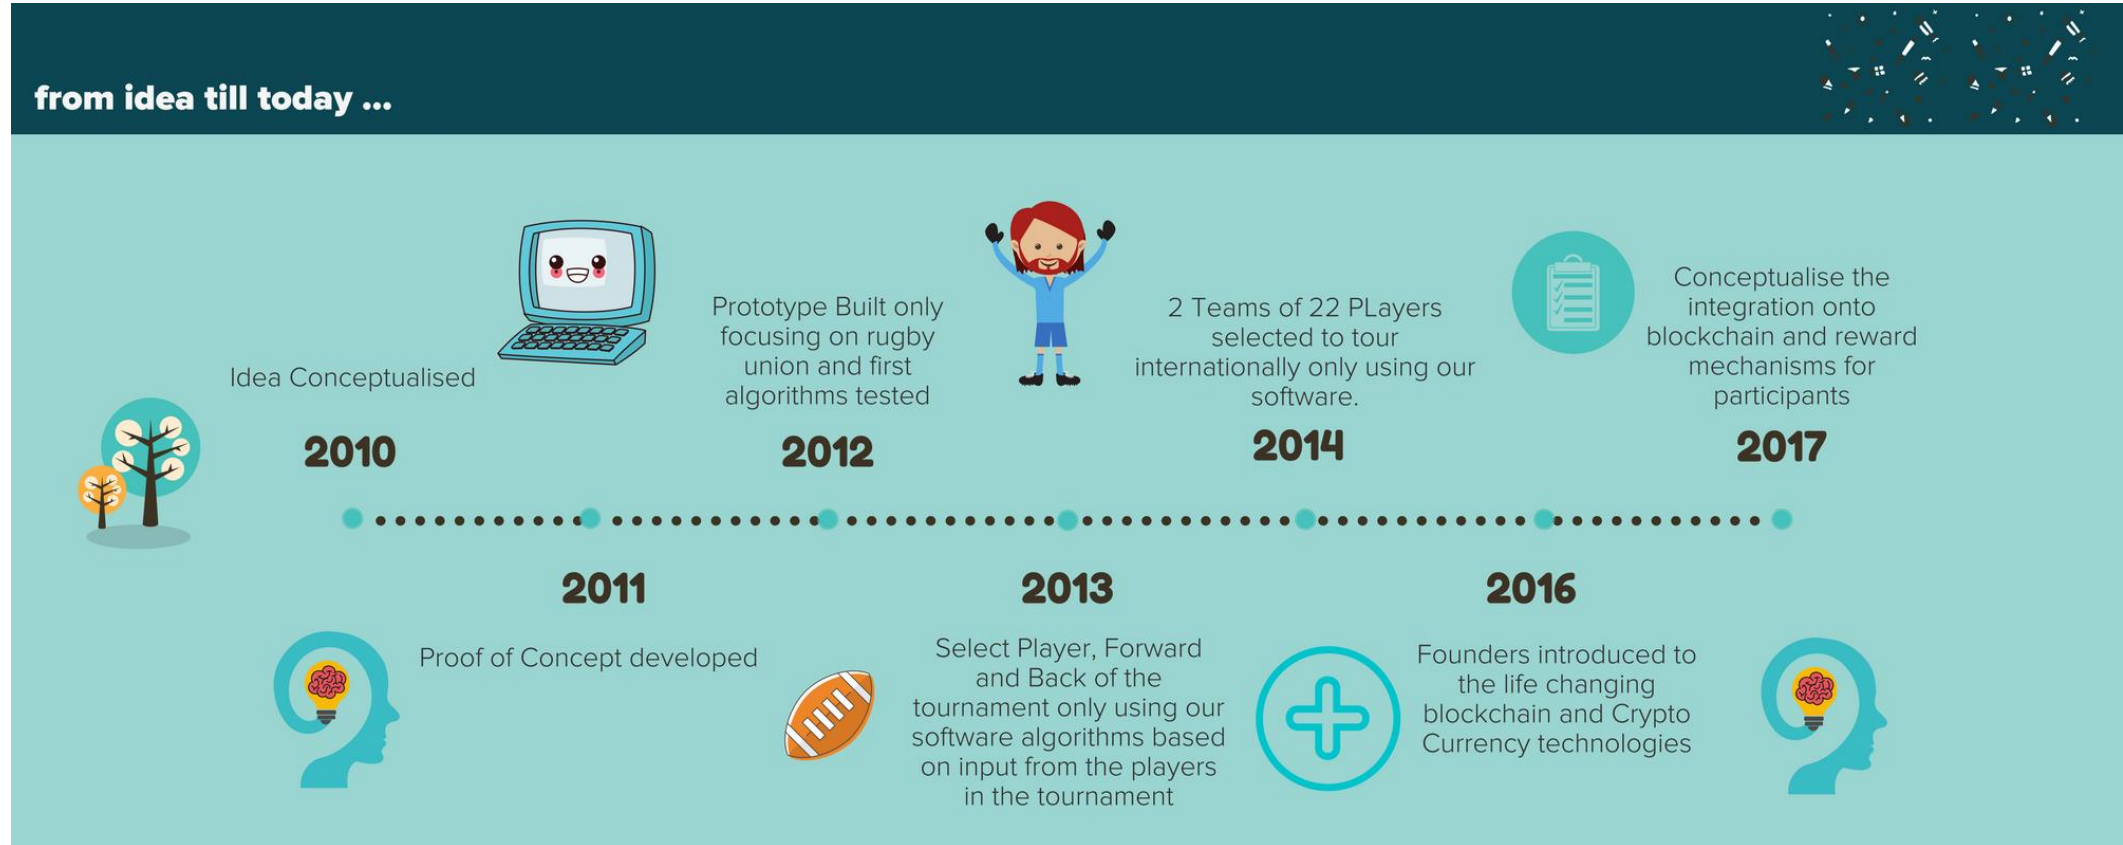

Introduction

SportsPodium unlocks underutilised value in sport through the power of the Blockchain. Sportspeople are incentivised to build their online profiles, which are secured on the Sirius blockchain.

This allows them to opt in to hyper-targeted product offerings enabling a crypto currency based sporting economy.

History

Understanding the problem

The Problem

A large portion of the value in sport is centrally controlled and many value streams are untapped

Few people in sport reach their full potential due to systemic disparities

Access to amateur and professional sports data is limited and/or expensive

Incentivise everyday sportspeople to maintain a digital storyboard of their sporting life.

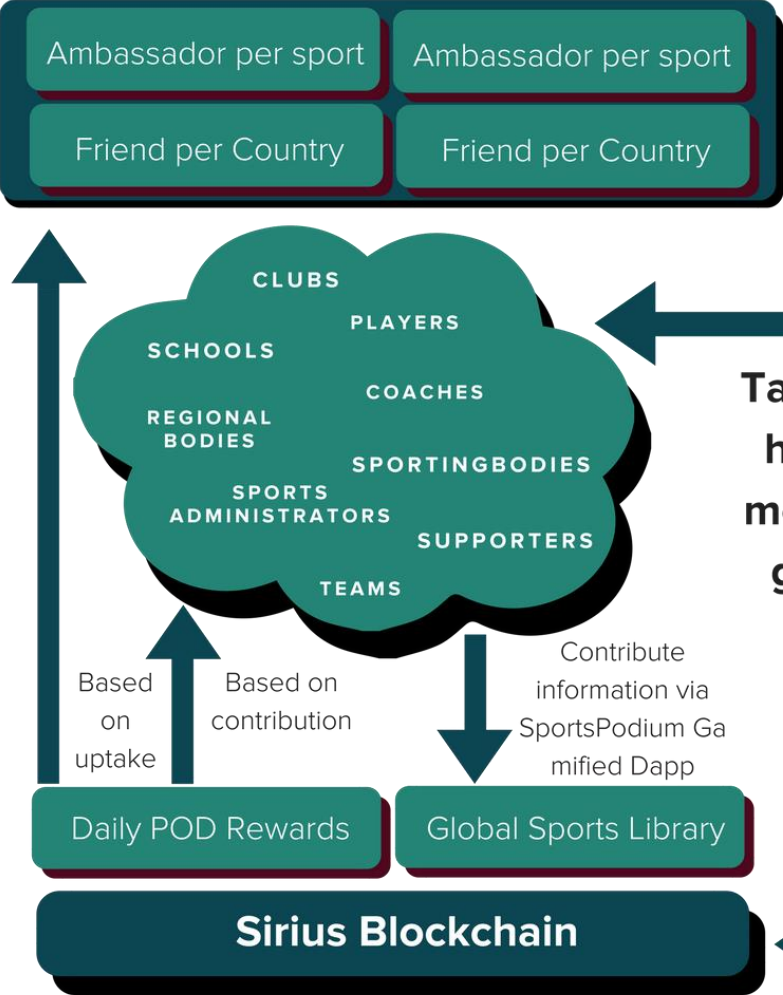

What will we achieve?

Ultimately build the biggest sports data library for amateurs and professionals alike

Provide a trust-less platform to support transparent flow and distribution of money

Create a captured audience that will be hyper-targeted for advertising

SportsPodium Ecosystem

Ambassadors and Friends to the ambassador are household big brand sporting names, which will actively market platform to sports communities around the world and ensure ongoing user uptake

Take crypto into every home and provide a means to spend it in a goods and services industry

Creating demand for our token by only accepting Pods

Demand increases value for everyone holding PODs
